

SAP Fieldglass to Power HP Enterprise Services Global External Workforce

HP to Utilize SAP Fieldglass VMS

Chicago - August 15, 2016

SAP Fieldglass, Inc., the leading technology provider to procure and manage contingent labor and services, today announced HP has chosen its Vendor Management System (VMS) to manage its global services procurement program.

HP's services procurement program includes contingent workers, Statement of Work (SOW)-based projects and independent contractors that span a broad skill set, including light industrial, IT, engineering and professional services.

"HP is leveraging the leading contingent labor management system to streamline processes and reduce costs. Fieldglass simplifies the way we procure and manage contingent workers around the world," said John Hinshaw, EVP of Global Technology and Business Processes, HP.

"HP's vision and high-level approach to a contingent workforce is indicative of the company's innovative business processes," said Jai Shekhawat, CEO, Fieldglass. "Our experience with the world's most sophisticated buyers, coupled with our solutions and services, is well-suited to meet the needs of a powerful global organization like HP."
